Join with the National REACH Coalition and partners as we present Digital Stories that capture the powerful narratives of a few community members from across the country sharing their close and personal experiences with COVID-19. These personal narratives describe how various events pertaining to COVID-19 impacted and influenced their lives.

After the screening there will be a conversation with the story tellers and those who trained them to create their Digital Stories. Audience members will be able to ask questions of the story tellers and the producer(s).

Sohail Daulat:

My digital story represents the event in my life that I experienced which lead me to my journey as a premed student with a focus on public health advocacy.

Patrick McNeal:

My story reflects how I dealt with survivors remorse upon recovering from COVID-19 and hearing that the word around my community was that I had passed away.
