

THE UNIVERSITY OF ARIZONA
Mel & Enid Zuckerman
College of Public Health

Join the National REACH Coalition in collaboration with the Arizona Telemedicine Program, the Southwest Telehealth Resource Center, and the Mel and Enid Zuckerman College of Public Health for the:

Lark Galloway Gilliam

The Inaugural Lark Galloway Gilliam Distinguished Lecture:

The Political Determinants of Health Speakers:

- Elizabeth Galloway-Evans
- Patricia Galloway-Banday
- Ericka Burroughs-Girardi,

County Health Rankings & Roadmaps

University of Wisconsin Population Health Institute

Tuesday, October 29, 2024

4-5:30 pm EDT, 3-4:30 pm CDT, 2-3:30 pm MDT, 1-2:30 pm PDT

REGISTER: www.telemedicine.arizona.edu

Or Scan QR Code

Join us Tuesday, October 29, 2024, for the Inaugural Lark Galloway Gilliam Lecture: The Political Determinants of Health and the impact of voter participation.

The Lark Galloway Gilliam Distinguished Lecture honors the life work of Lark Galloway Gilliam, co-founder and first President of the Board of the National REACH Coalition. Ms. Galloway-Gilliam, renowned for her work with empowering communities, understood the political determinants of health and the exercise of political power by those communities to address the determinants of health inequity plaguing them. She was also the Executive Director of Community Health Councils (CHC), a Los Angeles-based health promotion, advocacy and policy organization dedicated to building healthy communities.

For more information, contact Denise Wise-David at wised150@gmail.com.